Exciting Plays and Close Scoring Please a Large Crowd-The Last Game of the Series To-Day-Base-Ball Notes.

Indianapolis and New York played one of the most exciting games yesterday that has occurred on the local grounds this season. At no time after the second inning was either club more than one run shead, and inasmuch as both pitchers were being batted rather freely it may be inferred that the fielding was sharp. It was one of those games which keep an audience almost continually applauding. The home team batted in some hard luck, but the game, all in all, was won on its merits, the deciding run being a home-run drive by the brilliant outfielder, young Tiernan. The day was pleasant, although threatening rain, and about 1,500 people saw the game. Rain fell within fifteen minutes after the close of the

After one out in the first inning, Myers made a lucky hit over Richardson. He ran down to second. The ball was there before him, but the runner collided heavily with the baseman (Richardson), who dropped the ball. Denny sent him home with a pretty hit to center, and the ball, which was returned to the plate by Slattery, hit Myers and rolled to the grand stand, Denny reaching third, whence he scored on Seery's two-bagger. The latter stole third, which proved a good play, as Bassett's long fly to Gore sent him home, notwithstanding the out fielder's excellent throw. This gave the home team a handsome lead of three runs, and then Moffet went in to try his hand for the first time this season against League batters. Gore flew out to Seery, but Tiernan, as usual, made a two-bagger, and Ward got in one of his favorite bunt hits. Ewing's fly to center scored Tiernan. Ward stole second, and Connor got a base on balls, and the two then stole third and second, but Slatterly's out at first left them there. The home team batted in hard luck in the second. After McGeachy had gone out on a hard drive to Ewing, Moffet made a hit to left, Buckley struck out and then Hines also got in a hit, but Myers's hard drive went right at Connor. In the last half or the inning Murphy got in a lucky hit after one out, and went to second on a sacrifice. Gore got a base on balls, and the dreadful Tiernan came to bat, but he went out at first base by Bassett's assist.

In the second Moffet did not do so well, sending Ward, the first batter, to first. Buckley made a brilliant eatch of Ewing's foul-tip, but Connor's hit to center and in Denny's muff of the throw-in the runners reached third and second. Ward scored on Slattery's single, but an attempt to catch Slattery in stealing second resulted in Connor crossing the plate in safety, which tied the score.

Hines in the fifth got a hit to center, Buckley having been retired by a good foul catch of Connor's, and Myers was hit between the shoulders by a pitched ball. Denny, however, fouled out, and Seery struck out. In the last half of the inning Connor spoiled the tie by a home-run drive across Tennessee street, and the score remained at 4 to 3 until the eighth inning, although in the next inning Esterbrook drove the ball to the left field fence, but was put out at second by Slattery's beautiful throw. In the seventh inning, also, after one out, Buckley and Hines made pretty singles, but Myers flew out, and Denny struck out. No one covered first on a little in-field his, which Esterbrook was compelled to go after, and the runner (Gore) reached first. He was thrown out at second, however. After Tiernan had fouled out, Ward was given a life by an excusable error of Bassett's, after which Ewing was hit by a pitched ball. Buckley, by a quick throw caught Ward off second, but the lively short-stop got to third. Denny, however, would have caught Ewing off first had Esterbrook been

The eighth proved an off inning for the New York fielders, who permitted the home team to score two unearned runs and take the lead, to the great delight of the crowd. After one out, Bassett raised a high fly to left center which Gore, by good running got under but dropped, Bassett reaching second. Esterbrook hit to Ward, who threw low in attempting to catch Bassett at third, and both runners were safe, Esterbrook stealing to second a moment later. McGeachy's grounder was fumbled slightly by Richardson, Bassett scoring, but McGeachy was thrown out at first. Then Moffett drove a long fly to right center which Tiernan muffed on the run, and Esterbrook scored. Buckley ended the inning by fonling out

The visitors, however, immediately overcame this advantage. Slattery reached first on Myers's must of his liner, stole second, went to third on Richardson's drive to far short, and scored on Murphy's fly to center. Richardson stole second, went to third on Murphy's fly, and scored on Titcomb's sacrifice.

Hines opened the ninth with a drive into the extreme center corner of the grounds, and making third on the bit, but Ward saved the game for his side by making a brilliant catch of Myere's fly. Hines was then caught between hird and home on Denny's grounder, and run down, Denny reaching second, whence he scored on Seery's two-bagger. Bassett left the latter by a grounder to Richardson. Then Tiernan put an game by a terrific drive over t right-field fence far down in center, settling the contest. Following is the score: INDIANAPOLIS. NEW YORK.

Louisville, 6; Kausas City, 3. LOUISVILLE, May 8.-Fair weather and crowd of 500 to-day greeted the initial appearance of the Kansas City nine on the Louisville grounds. Louisville won by out-playing the visitors all around. Hecker and Porter both pitched well and were about equally supported. Collins, in left, did especially good service, and Esterday, at short, was better than White. Play was brisk throughout, making a very interest-

Base-Ball Notes. Shomberg's foot is improving slowly. Titeomb did not give a base on balls-so mething unusual this year.

Murphy did some splendid catching yesterday, and as for Buckley there is no better. Crane will probably pitch for New York to-day in the closing game with Indianapolis, Healy being in the box for the home team. Manager Spence explains that the reason Moffet has not been put in to pitch oftener is prevented him from going to Chicago. Perhaps Paul Hines didn't pull off his cap and run when he made his three-base bit in the ninth! He was determined to tie the game if his efforts could do it. It is that kind of work which wins games and makes the public the

THE FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

The Senate Spends the Day in Discussing the Land-Grant Forfelture Bill. WASHINGTON, May 8 .- In the Senate resolutions calling for detailed statements as to re movals and appointments in the Baltimore custom-house and postoffice since the 4th of March, 1885, were agreed to.

Mr. Hoar presented a memorial of the New England Conference of the Methodist'Episcopal Church protesting against the ratification of the Chinese treaty that precludes Chinese ministers of the government, or Chinese delegates to religious conventions, coming into the country, characterizing it as utterly un-American and un-Christian. Mr. Hoar said until there could be an appeal from the American people drunk to the American people sober the matter might be considered settled. He therefore asked that the memorial be laid on the table. So ordered. A bill was reported to authorize the construc-tion of railroad bridges across the Kentucky river and its tributaries. Placed on the calendar.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the railroad land-grant forfeiture bill, the question being on an amendment offered yesterday by Mr. Palmer to one offered by Mr. Spooner on the 30th of April. Mr. Dolph moved to lay on the stable Mr. Palmer's amendment to Mr. Spooner's amendment, being that nothing in the act should be construed to confirm any private entry for land heretofore settled upon and now claimed under color of the homestead or pre-emption laws; but that in all such cases the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior shall hear and determine the claims of the parties, respectively, according to the provisions of existing law. The amendment was laid on the table-yeas 23, nays 18.

Mr. Berry moved to lay on the table the amendment offered by Mr. Spooner, that the provisions confirming the title of all persons holding or claiming land in the State of Michigan, disposed of by the proper officers of the United States under the public land laws, provided that the Secretary of the Interior shall be recipied that the secretary of the Interior shall be satisfied that the cash purchases were made without fraud and in the belief that the purchasers were obtaining valid title, shall not be construed as confirming any sales or entries of land upon which there were bona fide pre-emption or homestead claims on the 1st of May, 1888. The motion to lay on the table was de-feated—yeas 17, nays 22; and amendment was agreed to--yeas 25, nays 16.

Mr. Palmer offered an amendment that nothing in the bill should be construed as excluding from forfeiture that portion of the grant conferred by the State of Michigan on the Marquette & Ontonagon Railroad Company, lying west of Lansing.

Mr. Edmunds moved to recommit the bill the committee on public lands, with instructions to report it back amended as soon as might be. He wished the committee to reframe it so as to keep it within the definite decisions of the Supreme Court to protect every real right of every citizen, and to wind up every unexecuted railroad grant and make an end of it.

The motion to recommit was opposed by Senators Blair and Dolph, and was defeated, only nine Senators voting for it. The question was then taken on Mr. Palmer's amerdment, and it was agreed to-yeas 24,

Mr. Palmer then moved an amendment to patent lands earned by the part construction of the Ontonagon & Brule River railroad. Re-

Mr. Hoar offered an amendment affecting the lands in Michigan, and was asked by Mr. Berry whether the effect of it would not be to confirm the lands held by the Portage Ship-canal Com-

Mr. Hoar replied that it would have that effect if it should turn out that the land was conveyed to the canal company by an officer of the United States. He was at a loss to conceive how any man born with a capacity for a sense of justice could refuse to confirm a title under such cir-

To this Mr. Berry retorted that he was at a loss to conceive how anyone born with a sense of justice and right would undertake to confirm a title founded in fraud, as this title was shown to be by the report of the House committee on public lands in the Fortieth Congress.

Mr. Hoar referred to the statement made the other day by Mr. Dolph, that that report had been written by Mr. Redington, the senior member of a law firm in Washington. And it was this man, he said, who prompted the attacks upon the canal company. It was a burning shame, he said, degrading to the character of the Senate that when citizens came before it with such a claim it should turn its back upon them on account of demagogue cries, especially when the creators of the fraud were sitting in the gallery and inspiring the attacks. Mr. Hoar further said that the Governor of Michigan made a release of the lands in question to the canal company; that it has complied with all the conditions of the grant, and the Governor so certified. The sole effect of his amendment, he said, was to secure these lands to the canal

Mr. Palmer argued against Mr. Hoar's amendment,
Mr. Stockbridge asserted, on his own personal knowledge, and in contradiction of statements by his colleague, that the canal in question was upleted and had been in successful operation for the last sixteen or seventeen years. The bill went over without action on Mr.

Hoar's amendment, and with an understanding that it would be taken up to-morrow at the con-clusion of the morning business.

The message from the President on the subject of the impressment into the French army of John Prussia, an American citizen, was laid before the Senate and referred to the committee on foreign relations, Mr. Stewart, who offered the resolution calling for the correspondence, remarking that the man had been discharged from the French army since the resolu-

Mr. Paddock introduced a bill to amend the western prairies. Referred The Senate then adjourned.

The Tariff Debate. WASHINGTON, May 8.—The message of the President, transmitted yesterday, returning without his approval the bill for the sale of certain New York Indian lands in Kansas, was referred to the committee on Indian affairs. The House went into the committee of the whole on the tariff bill. Mr. Stockdale, of Mississippi, took the floor in continuation of his speech in favor of the bill. He said that the cotton-planter had received little consideration in the legislation of the past The cotton industry was the favorite of the colored man. In the name of justice and humanity he appealed for relief for the colored people.

They should no longer be held in servitude to the gigantic protected industries from which they derived no benefit, and to which they under no obligation. Mr. Hopkins, of Illinois, opposed the bill. He said that the fact could not be kept from the people in the coming campaign that the Demo-cratic party stood committed, unequivocally and irrevocably, to the doctrine of free trade. That party had come into power by practicing a system of false pretenses upon the American people unparlieled in the history of political parties. Did the party send Mr. Carlisle to New York before the last election to explain the tariff plank of the Chicago platform? Did it send Mr. Hemphill there to talk to laborers as he had talked during the debate on the floor? No; the managers of the Democratic party knew that New York could never be carried in that way. When the columns were shaken and way. When the columns were shaken and defeat seemed inevitable they turned to the brainiest and ablest man in the party. They called for Samuel J. Randall, and he went to New York to explain to the voters there that the manufacturing interests of the country would not be disturbed in the event of the success of the Democratic party, and that the tariff plank in the Chicago platform meant only a plank in the Chicago platform meant only a wise and judicious rearrangement of the inequalities which all parties held to exist in the tariff to a greater or less extent. It had been Mr. Randall's boast that his efforts had made it possible for Mr. Cleveland to occupy the presidential chair. How had the Democratic party repaid his efforts, and how had his pledges been redeemed by that party? If rumor was correct, Mr. Randall was no longer a visitor at the White House; his counsel was no longer sought or heeded by his party. His influence had been curtailed by raising up a rival whose control of or heeded by his party. His influence had been curtailed by raising up a rival whose control of federal patronage had been used to humiliate and disgrace the once honored leader of the Democratic party. In conclusion, he entered his solemn protest against this attempt to overthrow the great business industries of America. Mr. Mansur, of Missouri, delivered an exhaustive speech in support of the bill, and he contended that the internal revenue system should be maintained for the payment of pensions and the remainder of the war debt. He quoted statistics in support of his assertion that the people were more prosperous under a low than under a high tariff. Mr. J. K. Taylor, of Ohio, denounced free trade as a fragment of the rebellion, and as dangerous to the country in 1888 as secession had been in 1861. After further debate the committee arose and the House took a recess until 8 P. M., the even-ing session to be for debate on the tariff bill. The Buffalo Conspiracy Cases. BUFFALO, May 8.—Hiram B. Everest and Charles M. Everest, of the Vacuum Oil Com-pany, of Rochester, convicted of conspiracy in trying to injure trade and commerce by attempting to blow up the Buffale Inbricating oil-works, in 1881, were fined $250 each by Judge Haight, in the Supreme Court, this afternoon. Attorney Bacon, of Rochester, appeared in person for Hiram B. Everest, and paid the fine promptly. The case has been in court for a year. Several civil suits, brought by the Buffale lubricating oil-works, claiming damages amounting to over $200,000, are still pending.

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

Fifteen Hundred Members in Attendance at Cincinnati-President's Annual Address.

CINCINNATI, May 8.-The American Medical Association, with nearly 1,500 members present, of whom twenty-five are women, held a preliminary session in Music Hall to-day, at which welcoming oratory was supplied by Mayor Smith on behalf of the city, and by Dr. C. D. Comegys on behalf of the local medical fraternity. President Garnett replied and also submitted his annual address, which was distinguished for its demand for reform. These features were received with storms of approving applause. The suggestions he offered are these:

"That a standing committee, to be called a committee of legislation, be appointed for each State, Territory and the District of Columbia, to consist of five members of the medical profession in good standing, three of whom shall have no official connection with any medical school or college, whose duty it shall be to carry out, as far as possible, the following instructions:

"First-That each one of said committee, or a majority thereof, shall attend the sessions of their respective legislatures, from time to time, as their duties may require, for the pur-pose of using all honorable means looking to the reduction of the number of medical schools in the United States and a consequent diminution in the annual number of medical graduates; that as a practical measure to this end they urge the passage of a law requiring that in the future granting of charters for creating medical schools there shall be a clause in every such charter requiring that all schools or col leges thus created shall demand a full term of four years' study before granting a diploma to any student thereof, and that no student shall be admitted to matriculate who has not passed a satisfatory examination, both oral and written, in the ordinary branches of academic study; and further, that any college failing to show greater than fifty matriculates for three consecutive years, shall forfeit its charter and be abolished. "Second-That they use all diligent effort to secure an ordinance creating in each State or Territory where no such board at present exists no connection with any medical school, and which shall be required to examine all applicants for license to practice medicine in their respective States, and that any person who may be de-tected in practicing any branch of the healing art without a license granted by said board shall be subject to such penalties as the law may pro-vide; that this committee may be authorized by statute to select and nominate to the Governors of the States seven competent and learned members of the medical profession to constitute said board of examiners, who shall have the ex-clusive power to issue licenses to practice the art and science of medicine and surgery. That the faculties of the several medical schools within the limits of the United States be urgently requested to call a convention, at some central point, for the purpose of consultation and adopting some general and uniform system of medical education more comprehensive and rigid in its requirements, and more in accord with the spirit of the age and the advanced progress of medical science, suggesting a four years' term of study, the requirement of a preliminary education, including some knowledge of the classics. That any college or school which shall refuse to enter into such an arrangement as may be decided upon by said convention shall be excluded from all connection with the American Medical Association, and its alumni not recognized as members of the regular profession."

The association then separated into sections where papers were read and discussions fol-

The corridors of Music Hall are brilliant with an exposition of aids to medicine, surgery and dentistry. Even doctors' bicycles, tricycles and buggles are exhibited, while the products of the chemical laboratories and the workmanship of instrument-makers are simply wonderful. Tonight a brilliant and crowded reception was given in the large dining-hall of the Burnet House. It was found that a place like Music Hall would have given more adequate room for the large number present.

M. E. GENERAL CONFERENCE.

The Minority of a Committee Surprised-Will Cumback Prepares a Sensation.

NEW YORK, May 8. - Bishop Walden, of Chattanooga, presided over the deliberations of the M. E. Conference to-day. Dr. Buc kley, of New York, moved, and it was carried, that inar-uch as the lady delegates who were elected to the conference had been ruled out yesterday, their fares to and from their destinations should be paid by the General Conference. An amendment to pay Mrs. H. E. Stone's expenses was tabled. She was elected as a reserve delegate from the South India Conference, and resides at South Bombay noting noise I a

It recommended that they be given their seats. The same report also recommended that each delegate should be a member of the church within the bounds of the conference electing him. The minority report was submitted next. It recommended that the delegates should be seated. The lay delegates in contest are: John M. Phillips, delegate from Mexico, residing in New York; Robert E. Pattison, delegate representing North India, residing in Philadelphia, and John M. Cornell, representing North Italy, living in New York. After considerable discussion, the minority report was adopted by a vote of 303 to 116, which action appeared to cause much surprise, and none were more astonished than the gentlemen of the commore astonished than the gentlemen of the committee who signed the minority report.

Next the question came up as to the right of W. A. Shannon to represent the Montana Conference. His seat had been contested by F. A. Riggins. This committee also failed to agree as to the claims of either gentleman, and two reports were received. The majority advocated the seating of the contestant, Riggins, and the payment of Mr. Shannon's expenses. The minority report advocated the accentance of the nority report advocated the acceptance of the returns from Montana and the record as it now stands, and the minutes of the conference, which say that Mr. Shannon was legally elected. The minority report, in this instance, was accepted as a substitute for the majority report, and when it came to a vote the minority report was adopted. This carries with it Mr. Riggins's expenses. Adjourned.

The Coming Comet.

It is fancied by a grateful patron that the next comet will appear in the form of a huge bottle, having "Golden Medical Discovery" inscribed upon it in bold characters. Whether this conmains to be seen, but Dr. Pierce will continue to send forth that wonderful vegetable compound and potent eradicator of disease. It has no equal in medicinal and health-giving properties for imparting vigor and tone to the liver and kidneys, in purifying the blood, and through it cleaning and renewing the whole system.
